

Well, we finally made it home at about 4:00 PM EST today. It was a long trip. It seemed like we were in the night that never ended because we were flying west and the night was extended because of the direction and speed of our flight! Needless to say, we are glad to be home!

Nathan did better on the flight over as it was mostly during the day. This time, he was very tired when we left, and did not want to go to sleep because of all the stimulation with so many people around him. He did sleep a few hours, but not nearly as much as he should have or as we would have hoped! We arrived in Atlanta just before 8:00 AM EST, made our way through passport control and customs. Then we had to sort out a schedule change for our flight(s) from Atlanta to South Bend. We had just enough time to hurry to the gate and board our plane for Cincinnati. We had a couple of hours in Cincinnati for lunch and to refresh ourselves before the final flight to South Bend.

Pastor Miller from our home church met us at the South Bend airport and took us home. I am sure that he has a new view of us after seeing how we are at the end of 30 hours of traveling. 😊 (Thanks Pastor Miller!)

Thank you so much for your prayers as we traveled home! We will spend the next couple of days unpacking and adjusting to life in the States again – like driving on the right side of the road (as in, not on the left side)!

We will try to post the rest of our photos on our web site in the next week. If you live in town locally and would like to hear more about our trip, we will be giving a report to our church, First Baptist in Mishawaka, next Sunday night (June 25) at 6pm. You are welcome to come and hear all that the Lord is doing in South Africa.

In the God Who Provides,
